Tailgate Chicken Bacon Jalapeno Bites

Always trying to figure out a tasty appetizer to take to a party? Or maybe something for the next football game? These Barbecued Chicken Bacon Jalapeno Bites are to die for! And they are actually pretty easy to make!

Here's what you'll need:

6 Chicken Breast Tenders {or 3 Chicken Breasts},
6 Slices of Bacon,
3 Jalapenos,
Cream Cheese, Toothpicks

First you'll want to slice the Jalapenos into spears and remove the seeds.

Next, lay out your chicken breasts on wax paper and tenderize {I just use a rolling pin}. Then cut each tender in half.

Now you're going to put a dollop of cream cheese in the middle of each piece of chicken and put the jalapeno spear on top. As you can see I left a few without jalapenos for my little guy who doesn't like spicy!

Next, you're going to cut the bacon slices in half. Roll each chicken tender with the bacon around it and insert toothpick to hold together.

Place on the barbecue on medium heat and grill until the bacon is brown and crispy!
